

SoCalREN's Project Delivery Program guides public agencies through energy efficiency projects that save you energy and money, all at no-cost!

What is the Project Delivery Program?

SoCalREN's Project Delivery Program was established in 2013 to help public agencies achieve unprecedented levels of energy savings quicker than ever before. Agencies enrolled in SoCalREN Public Agency Programs are assigned a project manager to assist from the beginning of a project through closeout. Services include:

- Energy consumption benchmarking
- Technical support, including audit calculations, identification of pumping and wastewater measures, and more
- Analysis of financing options
- Procurement and construction support
